Chicago, June 17.—Mayor Harrison's recent visit to Horatio Seymour was apparently made in his own interests as vice-president candidate, and apparently resulted in Seymour giving him assurance that he was not a candidate and would under no consideration accept the nomination. Harrison, however, became convinced that Seymour would accept of the nomination and does not hesitate to say so. The Time's Indianapolis special says that Thurman deprecates the movement on account of some zealous friends who intend to go to Cincinnati in his behalf, with banners and other emblems. He considers such accessories unseemingly. Hon. Lyman Trumbull's friends here regard him as possibly the dark horse, and will turn out in force at Cincinnati. An excursion is made up all ready to go down Saturday night. Trumbull's nomination for governor is regarded as an advantage in his presidential aspiration.

London, June 17.—The Viceroy of India, telegraphs there is no doubt that the Afghan leaders are opposed to each other and are trying to gather men in Surmat district. A large gathering at Ghenuer, and the Gazette expresses the opinion that Russia is likely to bring forward Monseerin question at Berlin, in despite of the reservation of other powers against discussion of any question except Greek frontier, and that refusal to satisfy, Montenegro might induce Russia to influence the Porte to resist the decision of the conference. Numbers embarked in the course from which they can expect to reap nothing but humiliation, unless they are prepared; or in Sir Layard's words: "To go farther than mere menace, its no use making threats which are not to be put in execution."

Lexington, Ky., June 17.—The Democratic State convention met today with about 600 delegates present. Gen. Lucius Disha was elected chairman, and E. Polk, of Johnston, secretary. While waiting for the reports of the committee, speeches were made by Col. Breckenridge, Henry Waterson, Gen. O. M. Day and others. The nomination of Tilden was always received with loud cheers, but when Judge Lindsay alluded to Seymour, there was wild enthusiasm, and the cheering lasting for several minutes.

London, June 17.—The report of the committee in the house of commons, in the case of Bradlaugh, states that there is no prestige whatever for the refusal of the house to allow any member to take parliamentary oaths, as the committees held were in compliance to Bradlaugh, with forms used when oaths is taken. The house can, and ought to prevent him from going through such forms, therefore, the committee advises that he be allowed to affirm.

Senator Conover, of Philadelphia, now here, is very confident that the state will be carried by the republicans. He is a republican candidate for Governor. A prominent republican politician offered to lay a wager of $5,000 to $1,000, yesterday, that the Republicans would carry the State.

The late Professor Farady adopted the theory that the natural age of man is one hundred years. The duration of life he believed to be measured by the time of growth. In the camel this takes eight, in the horse five, in the lion four, in the dog two, in the rabbit one year. The natural termination is five removes from these several points. Man being twenty years in growing, lives five times twenty years—that is one hundred the camel is eight years in growing, and lives forty years; and so with other animals. The man who does not die of sickness lives everywhere from eighty to one hundred years. The professor divided into equal halves, growth and decline, and these into infancy, youth, virility, and age. Infancy extends to the twentieth year, youth to the fortieth, because it is in this period the tissues become firm, virility from fifty to seventy-five, during which the organism remains complete, and at seventy-five old age commences, to last as the diminution of reserve force is hastened or retarded.
